INDIANAPOLIS (January 6, 2014) – Integrating Woman Leaders, Inc. (IWL) announces its new Leadership Series, launching January 2014 to provide Indiana women continued training and development tools for advancing in leadership.

In partnership with Butler Corporate and Executive Education (BCEE), IWL will offer programs including The Leader as Coach and Leading Through Conflict. BCEE also offers an Advancing Women in Leadership program. The BCEE certified staff will lead the programs, each designed differently to achieve specific program goals. Details can be found on the IWL website.

Ron Thomas, Executive Director of Butler Corporate and Executive Education says, “Leadership skills are essential life skills for anyone who hopes to make a positive impact in their work, family, community, or any area of life. This unique partnership between IWL and BCEE, has been informed through IWL’s customers and designed and taught by Butler University’s Corporate & Executive Education organization, bringing together top experts, assessment and feedback tools, coupled with research-based content that centers on critical skills and development areas unique to women.”

The series will expand on the topics introduced at IWL’s annual Women’s Leadership Conference, chosen from feedback from approximately 1,600 participants over the past four years. Programs range from one-time development opportunities to workshops offered over the span of several months. The first session, The Leader as Coach, kicks off Jan. 31.

Seats are limited and early sign-up is recommended. Registration launches Jan. 6 and is open to everyone online at IWLLeadershipSeries.com.
